Largest Vote In Recent Years Cast In S.T.C. Student Government Election

Richard Shrout, Durwood Maxted Elected President and Vice-President of Students

SENATORS ELECTED TUESDAY

Richard Shrout, Calhoun, and Durwood Maxted, Tabor, Ia., were elected president and vice-president, respectively, of the Student Government Association for next year at the general student election held last Wednesday at the College. Both men are juniors.

The largest vote in recent years was cast in last Wednesday's election. Shrout pulling 357 votes, to his nearest opponent's 308. Gene Hill, also of Calhoun, received the 308 votes, and Bill Bernau, Earlham, Ia., the other candidate for president, received no votes.

A Hot Campaign

In the race for vice-president, Maxted tallied 404 votes to best his opponent, Fred E. Davidson, Barnard, who received 261 votes.

The election followed one of the hottest campaigns in history on the local campus. Following the nominating convention held one week ago last Monday, the campaign took on a serious aspect, flavored with the painting of signs and various political rallies." Two rallies were held election eve, one week ago last Tuesday night, and both factions, accompanied by signs, placards, and a band and a host of students, marched from the College to Mary-

Maryville College Declares War Against Dandelions

Students Are Asked to Pluck and Destroy Heads of Invading
"Yellow Pests"

War has been declared on dandelions by the Maryville Garden Club. The campaign against the "yellow pests" began Tuesday and will continue until the season is over. Mrs. Ferdinand Townsend, self-styled "Carrie Nation" in the war, said Tuesday that Mayor Campbell pledged the support of the city administration.

In an interview with Mrs. M. E.
Ford, member of the war committee, she said that the Garden Club was asking the support of the College students in this fight for a more beautiful residential district and a lovelier College campus. Mrs. Ford said that the main thing for the College students to do was to break off the blossoms of the dandelions and to destroy the heads. If every bloom is picked for two consecutive years, the dandelions will be stamped out.

The College last year carried on an intensive campaign against dandelions on the campus with very gratifying results and with the aid of the students, it will be possible to further improve the campus and the residential section of Maryville.

Bearcats Nosed Out By William Jewell In Dual, 69 to 67

Locals Win Ten Firsts And Tie
For Another But Are Weak
In the Field Events

In spite of the fact that the Bearcats won ten of the sixteen events and tied for another, they were nosed out by William Jewell college in a track meet at Liberty last Wednesday by a score of 67 to 69. Loss of the place and show proved the downfall of the locals.

Bernard McLaughlin, Maryville
speedster, led the Bearcat scoring, winning three firsts in the short dashes and the low hurdles. However he was nosed out for high scoring honors by Roberts, a Jewell freshman, who counted one quarter more than McLaughlin.

Almost every event saw the lead change hands. As in past years, Maryville was strong on the track but weak in the field events. Q.

H.S. ART CLASS DISPLAYS WORKS

The high school art class under the supervision of Mary Harman, Rosendale, a practice teacher in art, has recently completed a project of executing designs for textiles.

These designs have been put on display in the show-case on the left of the center stairs. Several of the designs are particularly striking in lay-out and color scheme, all of them being all-over surface designs worked out in tempera.

Some of the designs were of the novelty type, some of the most interesting being an adaptation of the figure of the pugnacious Walt Disney creation, Donald Duck, and a beach-cloth design consisting of palm trees and grass huts.

Senior Play to Be Presented Next Thursday

"Hay Fever," By Noel Coward, Is Popular Production; Author
Is Outstanding Dramatist

CHARACTERS ARE UNIQUE

"Hay Fever," a striking comedy under the directorship of Dr. J. P.
Kelly, chairman of the speech department, will be produced Thursday, April 28. It is being sponsored by the Senior Class.

The astonishing popularity of this particular attraction is most easily, and probably most correctly, explained by the fact that in addition to Noel Coward's reputation for writing smart dialogue to clothe intelligent comedy plots, he has brought together characters which, being so utterly different, cut the play into scenes which leave the audience breathless from the tempo the comedy reaches.

the London stage, has moved her family to the country for complete rest which is beginning to tell upon her nerves. Simon and Sorel, son contests, Mr. Dieterich announced this week. A second place trophy

"Peter Rabbit" Operetta By Kindergarten-Primary Class

Modern Touches to Old Story Are Made by Pupils of Grades In Training School

Bugs danced and a hen and chickens chuckled last Tuesday night for the entertainment of Peter Rabbit in particular, and an interested audience, in general, at the operetta given by the kindergarten-primary department.

Based on the story "Peter Rabbit," by Beatrix Potter, a number of modern innovations were made to add color to the production. The Rabbit family, who were the main characters in the operetta were as follows:

Peter, Billy Garrett; Mopsy, Dorothy Jean Egley; Flopsy, Sally Robinson; Cottontail, Patty Montgomery; Mother Rabbit, Martha Marilyn Clymens; and Mr. McGregor, Billy Stauffer. Other children took parts of lettuce, carrots, peas, woodland rabbits, bugs, chickens, and even a hop toad.

The operetta was under the general direction of Miss Chloe E. Millikan, supervisor of the department. The music was under the direction of Miss Helen Crahan of the music faculty; dances were in the charge of Miss Day Weems of the physical education department and Mrs. Albert Kuchs; and the stage and properties lighting were in the charge of Dr. J. P. Kelly of the speech department. Specialties between acts were violin numbers given by pupils of Miss Alline Fennell of the music department.

In the modern version of "Peter Rabbit," Mother Rabbit in the first act, left her bunnies, Flopsy, Mopsy, Cottontail, and the arrogant Peter, to gather berries while she went to town for Easter dyes. All Bunnyland is occupied with painting Easter eggs for Easter morning. It was found that Peter refused to go to the woods for berries, but sneaked away to the McGregor garden, the garden where his father was killed the year before.

In the second act the stage was set with vegetables, lettuce, carrots, and peas, and these were tended by gardeners. From here Peter narrowly escaped, very narrowly, only to lose his way in the dark woods and had a great deal of difficulty in finally reaching his home.

As a fitting climax in the third act, seventy children were busily painting Easter eggs as they sang, "Whistle While You Work."

CHESTERFIELD'S DAILY RADIO SPORTS COLUMN RETURNS ON N.B.C. STATIONS APRIL 18th

You baseball fans who like real enthusiasm as well as knowledge of the game from your sports commentators will find one who fits in—Paul Douglas, Chesterfield's baseball expert, who will review the games and players nightly at 6:30 p.m. E.S.T., starting April 18th with the season's opening, in a quarter-hour broadcast over 50 National Broadcasting Company stations from the Atlantic Coast to the Rocky Mountains.

Douglas is not only one of the country's best sports commentators but a real fan who never misses a game if he can help it. He roams the parks, knows all the players, and gets as wildly excited as the dyed-in-the-wool baseball lover who does his broadcasting from the outside bleachers and hath a carrying voice.

The opening broadcast of Chesterfield's 1938 daily sports resume will come from Boston, where Douglas will come on the air after viewing the New York Yankees and the Boston Red Sox in their American League debut. He will have as

Thursday, Dish night, Dolores Del Rio, George Sanders, June Lang in "International Settlement."

Friday and Saturday, double feature—"Bulldog Drummond's Peril," and "Sweetheart of the Navy."

Saturday night 10:45 and Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, with matinees Tues. and Wed., Don Ameche, Tyrone Power, Alice Faye, in "In Old Chicago." Those who remember "San Francisco" will not be disappointed in expecting as much or more from "In Old Chicago." It depicts the great fire of several years ago with much vividness. It was necessary for the Hollywood Fire Department to stand by while the scene was being shot, so you can get an idea that the film is realistically produced. Alice Faye, Don Ameche, and Tyrone Power were never better than in this show. The show will be here five days counting Saturday night.

College Alumna Writes Dance Story

Miss Virginia Dean, an alumna of the College with a Master's degree from Columbia university, has written an article on social dancing for the fifth and sixth grades, which appears in the May issue of the Journal of Health and Physical Education.

Miss Dean, who was an outstanding undergraduate student in physical education while attending school here, is now the head of the physical education department at Flynn Park School, University City, Mo.

Miss Dean took her pupils Saturday, April 9, to Columbia to give a demonstration of creative rhythmic activities at the spring meeting of the Missouri Health and Physical Education Association.

Miss Miriam Waggoner of the physical education department of the College and Miss Nellie Harold of the Maryville high school attended the meeting and saw Miss Dean's demonstration.

THE SPRING CONTESTS

Once again the high school students in the district gather on the College campus to compete in the annual Spring contests for Northwest Missouri high schools. The affair, as usual, continues for three days, and in those days it is expected that approximately 1600 students will take part in the contests.

The events are run off each year in as fair a manner as is possible. While many students return to their high schools in a somewhat depressed fashion, they should remember that it was possible for only one person to win first place and that perhaps they can do better at another time.

In spite of the "blows" to the students' feeling, the contests are a good thing. Students drill and practice during a greater part of the school year, and the annual contests give them a means of individual expression that they could not otherwise secure. The contests give students a chance to "display their wares."

Competition affords the students who enter the contests excellent experience in individual expression. After a student is graduated from school and enters into the world for himself—or even before he is graduated—he will find that competition is great in many phases of life. Having competed in such events as are being staged at the College this week-end, students will be better prepared, to a degree, to meet the competition to be experienced in life.

Speaking for the College—its faculty and student body—THE NORTHWEST MISSOURIAN this week dedicates its issue to the visiting students and at the same time welcomes them to Maryville and the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College.

IS THIS UNIVERSAL?

Last week this newspaper carried an editorial on the inferiority complex shown by students, and also what should be done about such a complex. This week word reached the office of this paper concerning the work of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, which is to make higher education higher in the United States. The report came as a blast to the work of the Foundation.

The report was made following a ten-year study of high school and college students in the state of Pennsylvania. It urged drastic reforms in the training of teachers, stating that a majority of the prospective teachers being trained in our colleges "exhibit inferiority in contrast with non-teachers in nearly every department of study; and they show up badly when compared in the same tests with students four years below them who represent the education problems with which they must be prepared to deal.

"Both state subsidies and the income from endowments today are flowing in large amounts to individuals who might be replaced by more appropriate investments. Much of our present failure to provide further education for high school graduates who could profit by it is due not so much to lack of resources as to lack of precision in our knowledge of their abilities.

"The present 'pseudo-standards' of time and credit should be abandoned in education. The paramount standard is one which the institution holds unfailing not before the student, but before itself; it is none other than the standard of suitability which marks the treatment accorded to a student by the institution in view of his ascertained character and peculiar needs."

While the above report is a result of statistical research, it is difficult for this newspaper to agree with the Foundation. From several years' experience as a student and from a short time's experience as a teacher in a high school, the writer cannot agree that American colleges are graduating high school teachers who know less than the students they teach.

We believe that the Carnegie report is not universally true.

POEM TO ROBERT FROST

Robert Frost, beloved Harvard university poet-teacher, has a reputation for great teaching and great writing. Students in the College who have made a study of American literature will vouch for that. To Frost, a great leader of students, Kenneth Leslie recently wrote a poem, had it printed on the New York Times' editorial page. A portion of "Cobweb College," written for Robert Frost, follows:

A batch of freshmen came to Cobweb College; the Spider looked them over, frowned and said, "These boys are ghosts of boys, cracked wide with knowledge their dreams dried out and left the dreamers dead. There's not a meal among them, no illusion to sharpen up my tooth on, no romance for me to ridicule to red confusion, no creed on which to slake my poison lance. I've drawn their blood too many generations and spoiled the breed. Their fathers, when I wrapped them in casual web and silken strong equations, would lunge and writhe, grimacing when I snapped them with categorized claws. These modern schools condition them until they yearn to yield; their wills are like the blown pigskin that drools November muck around a soggy field. They murmur, 'Say, Professor, skip the prodding, just dish it out, the ifs, the ands, the buts!' Who'd question fifty million miles of wadding engendered through the ages in your guts? Welcome the warm cocoon of cozy thought through which we gain the world but lose surprise! We'll answer by your book, old man, but not pretend amazement, thus the pampered flies and those who hope for pampering... the rest nursing a schoolboy grudge within the core of mangy-bearded justice are at best a thin and scanty ration for my store."

THE STUDENT ELECTION

Student officers for next year, as far as the entire Student Government Association is concerned, have been elected—at least for the Fall term. It is now the duty of every student in the College who will be in school next year to vow to cooperate with his representative in matters of student government.

During the campaign and election last week, almost every student in this institution had his amount of "political fun." A large number of students took part in the double rally held last Tuesday evening—the election eve—and despite a "threat" or two, nothing serious developed. It is quite possible that members of the opposing parties are now on as good terms as ever. It is also quite possible that the members of the same party are better friends than they were before the election.

In Tuesday's election of this week a great amount of interest was also shown. There was, however, a much less degree of interest shown in this week's plebiscite than in last week's general election. Howbeit, the Student Senators are elected for next Fall, and several for the entire year, and it is the duty of every student to cooperate with them.

The WRITERS' NOOK

Writing is an art. He who would express himself must find a medium. The painter must cultivate the art of painting. The musician must cultivate the art of music. He who would express himself in writing must cultivate the art of writing.

THE AURA OF SPRING

The breath of Spring is ever sweet
When fading day and evening meet,
In twilight's peaceful golden haze
That steals away the sun's last rays.

Then softly on the wings of night
The stars steal out to shed their light
Upon the eager life, new born,
That wait in silence for the morn.

So Spring enchanting evenings give
The urge to dream, to do, to live,
And so I love the works of Spring
For the joys of life they bring.

IT MAY BE THAT NOT ENOUGH CHRIST'S HAVE DIED

I have seen a machine gun
Mow down a line of Ethiopian captives.

They slumped forward and lay still,
Thin piteous pleas for mercy
Suddenly silenced.

I have seen bodies of coolies and ricksha men.
Sprawled one upon another
In the debris littered streets of Shanghai.

I walked carefully among the dead.
High over head the bombing planes
Circled and turned again to attack.
I have seen the morgues of Vienna
Fill in a day with Jewish suicides.
I have seen Spanish monks
March to their executions chanting
"Long live Christ, the King."
Nineteen centuries—and life is still A pawn in the endless game of war.
It may be that not enough Christ's have died. —A. Sawyer

I SAW YOU SMILE

I thought that life was cruel to me;
That there was nothing for me here.
All lovely things I failed to see,
And every hope was turned to fear.

But when today I saw you smile—
Now life is wonderful and new;
To me all things seem so worthwhile—
I'll live again because of you.

RECOLLECTIONS

Soft coats of downy fleece,
Sailing ships upon the sea,
Singing birds along the breeze,
Sighing winds among the trees,

Moon sailing through the sky,
Lone wail of coyote's cry,
Prairie grasses brown and dry,
White birds gliding by,

Fleeting memories like these,
Fill my soul with wondrous peace.

MY SONG

I shall sing a song of the valleys,
Of the valleys deep and green.
I shall sing a song of the hillsides,
Of the trees which sway and lean
On the soft-resounding hillocks
Covered with forest sheen.

I shall sing a song of the twilight,
Of the twilight roundelay.
I shall sing a song of the night time
In a shaded moonlit bay
Where all the little shadows
Seek rest at close of day.

I shall sing a song to the Lord of all Ruling with gracious loves,
Leading us on in our earthly strife,
Guiding His homing doves.

PARTING

She saw
With tear-filled eyes
Her one dear son leave her
To join the half-crazed sullen world
At war.

I CAME

Softly
I did arrive
And without sound
I snuffed out the glowing splen-
Of life.

EASTER POEM

I am a little Easter egg
Ain't I purty now?
I fell off the wall
Get the yolk?

I am a little Easter bunny

I think you look funny
'Cause you wear a sweater.

DR. MEHUS ADDRESSES COUNTY GRADUATES

Dr. O. Myking Mehus of the College department of social science last Saturday afternoon addressed the Gentry county eighth grade graduates at exercises held in Kansas City. He stressed the value of education in the lives of persons in civilization.

Dr. Mehus told the group that education should help us earn living and to do some useful work in the world. It should train us to enjoy their leisure time in a wholesome manner, develop ideals and definite convictions. "Education must develop an open-minded attitude towards the problems of modern life," he said.

The instructor said that "Education is the bulwark of democracy. We need to develop trained leaders who are concerned about the welfare of the common man."

MR. GARRETT SPEAKS TO MARYVILLE MEN'S FORUM

Mr. Hubert Garrett, member of the department of social science at the College, last Monday spoke before the weekly meeting of the Maryville Men's Forum on the subject of Andrew Jackson. He presented a book-review of "The Life of Andrew Jackson," by Marquis James.

"Living or dead," Mr. Garrett said, "Jackson has always been able to take care of himself. He was pure in a day of impurity, brave in a day of bluster, a far-sighted statesman in a wilderness whose vision is the principal heritage of the republic today, and a gentleman of his word always."

"If he was illiterate because he could not spell, then the same would bar Chaucer and Shakespeare and practically every great man of Jackson's time. In a coarse society, a society whose morals were lax beyond anything that would be tolerated now, Jackson retained a singular purity of life, thought and speech."

Studies Show Work of College Placement Committee Last Year

Clay County Has Second Highest Average Salaries And Best Trained Instructors

HIGHEST PAID IN ATCHISON

Mr. A. H. "Bert" Cooper, member of the College Committee on recommendations, this week made public two studies, one showing the teaching positions according to counties in the rural schools of the district, the salaries paid and the positions filled by the committee.

The other study shows the teaching positions according to subjects and teaching combinations in the high schools of the district and the positions filled by aid of the committee last year.

Average Salaries

The county study shows that the average monthly salary of teachers securing positions by aid of the committee on recommendations for the year 1937-38 was as follows:

Primary Grades	$84.00
Intermediate Grades	85.00
Upper Grades	84.00
Rural	64.00
High Schools	113.56

The average annual salary for all teachers in the rural schools of the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College district for 1937-38 was $544.17, and the average monthly salary for teachers in the same schools was $67.74.

Clay Has Best Teachers

This study shows that the county paying the highest average salary to its rural teachers is Atchison, and the second highest is Clay. The county with the best trained teachers, according to college hours credit, is Clay.

In the report showing the teaching positions according to subjects and teaching combinations in high schools of the district, it was found that teachers majoring in agriculture, physiology, geography, speech, psychology and hygiene must be prepared to teach in another field in addition to their major field.

It was also found that in only nine subjects was the committee able to place teachers who were qualified to teach in only one field. This would indicate that the chance for securing a position is much greater when one is qualified to teach in more than one field.

Were you at the puppet show Thursday? If not you missed seeing the smallest actors and actresses of Hollywood. In fact they were so small that special lighting and scale building of the stage was used to make them visible to the audience.

Mildred Ruth French is a Maryville high school graduate, majoring in English and minoring in commerce for her B. S. degree from the College.

Beulah Frerichs has chosen to major in speech for a B. S. degree. Her home is near Fairfax.

Dorotha Gates, a B. S. candidate with a major in elementary education and minors in physical education, English and social science, comes to the College from Grant City.

Edward Davis Geyer went to school for a year at William Jewell College after graduating from Graham high school, but later came to Maryville to finish the work required for a B. S. degree in social science with a minor in English.

Dorothy Joanna Graham, Creston, Ia., is majoring in elementary education with minors in art, physical education and English.

Paul Wallace Greene, Fairfax, is seeking a B. S. degree in mathematics, with a minor in chemistry. He formerly attended college at Tarkio.

Carl Conrad Hackman, Methodist minister at Skidmore, drives back and forth from that town to attend classes at the College. He is an A.B. candidate, with a major in social science and minors in English and music. He has done most of his college work at Warrenton college and at Cape Girardeau Teachers College.

Hubert Wayne Hadorn is seeking a B. S. degree in social science, with a minor in English. He is a graduate of Savannah high school.

They were particularly interested in knowing how to construct a show, for what child would not be thrilled to tinker with puppets?

All in all the success of the show was proven by the audience's response after each act. It seems most impossible that we witnessed the performance of live talent, and so why not their exhibition?—M. Mc.

American Students Disapprove Boycott of Japan

Survey Shows College People Are Against Compulsory ROTC, War Participation

(Editor's Note: A short time ago this newspaper received literature from Brown University asking that The Missourian help in taking a "National Survey of Student Opinion" on questions of national and international affairs. While an editorial did appear in this newspaper regarding the survey, this newspaper deemed it advisable not to actively take part in the campaign. The following story, furnished this paper by its Associated Collegiate Press service, shows the preliminary results of the survey.)

Providence, R. I.—(ACP)—American students do not approve of a consumer's boycott against Japan, compulsory R.O.T.C., collective security, or participation in a foreign war, if preliminary results in the National Survey of Student Opinion on Peace being sponsored jointly by the Brown Daily Herald and the United Student Peace Committee are any indication.

Twenty-eight colleges in 18 states are included in the first tabulation of results, released here today by Antone G. Singsen, editor of the Daily Herald and director of the survey. Votes of 9,858 students are recorded.

On question 1, regarding American policy in the Far East, 51.1 per cent of those voting favored withdrawal of American forces in China, and 41.8 per cent urged invocation of the Neutrality Act. Only 30 per cent favored cooperation with Great Britain, France and Russia, in applying economic sanctions against Japan, and but 16.2 per cent declared in favor of a unilateral declaration by the United States branding Japan an aggressor and cutting off relations with her. Only 22.7 per cent favored a consumer's boycott against Japanese goods sold in this country. 9.8 per cent urged repeal of the Oriental Exclusion Act.

Question 2, regarding R.O.T.C. in schools and colleges, indicates an overwhelming sentiment against compulsory drill in any institution of learning except purely military schools. 23 per cent voted for complete abolition of the R.O.T.C., while 54.1 per cent favored a more moderate program, permitting optional drill for those desiring it. 17.2 per cent desired compulsory drill in state owned schools and colleges.

Question 3 concerned a permanent policy for keeping America at peace, and here collective action took an even greater defeat, 21.6 per cent voting for application of economic sanctions by the United States along with other powers, while only 17.5 per cent favored American participation in military sanctions against an aggressor nation. 39.2 per cent favored a policy of unqualified neutrality in all foreign wars, while 25.7 per cent urged American entrance into a revised League of Nations, with provisions for peaceful change and revision of treaties strengthened. 15.3 per cent voted for complete isolation of this country from the rest of the world. That students have little interest in the Spanish crisis was demonstrated when only 7 per cent urged withdrawal of American neutrality in Spain, in favor of aid to the Loyalist Government, and but 2.5 per cent urged the same action in favor or aid to the Rebel forces.

On question 4, based on the so-called Oxford Oath, 14.6 per cent declared their determination to fight in no war the government might declare, while 66.2 per cent, the largest majority recorded on any issue, avowed their willingness to defend continental United States from invasion. Only 8.6 per cent said they were willing to fight to defend "American rights abroad," and 9.8 per cent said they would support the government in any war it might become involved in.

Question 5 offered five courses of action in regard to military and naval expenditures. 37.8 per cent of those voting, urged progressive disarmament in cooperation with other powers. 25.1 per cent favored passage of the billion dollar Naval bill, while 19.6 per cent urged reduction in Naval expenditures but an increase in the expense account of the Army.

Dance Club Meets At Gym Bi-Weekly

Two nights a week thirty "trippers of the light fantastic" meet in the gymnasium for the regular meeting of the Dance Club.

The Dance Club, of which Marjorie Schneider, Oregon, is president, is composed not only of physical education majors and minors, but of home economics majors, speech majors, art and music majors, social science majors, and women from every department in the College.

The Dance Club meets only at night and is entirely separate from regular classes. It is not sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association, but is allied with that organization, and W.A.A. points are given if so desired.

At the present the organization is working hard on the complete dance program to be given May 4 in conjunction with the annual Music Festival week. The dances to be given in the program are all created by the women in the dance club rehearsals, and will represent the history of the dance beginning with the primeval dance, and continuing on through the different periods of the dance up to the modern.

As soon as the present project is completed the club will concern itself with social dancing. The club studies dancing of every type: interpretive, modern, tap, ballet, and social. Later in the spring the Dance Club will work with a verse choir in presenting some modern dances.

Dr. O. Myking Mehus spoke Tuesday afternoon at the meeting of the Maryville Twentieth Century Club. His subject was "The National State Department."

Senators Elected Tuesday

Three, two and one-term members of the Student Senate for next year were elected in the election held Tuesday of this week. In that election, Mary Turner, Pattonsburg, and Bill Bernau, Earlham, Ia., tied for one of the junior three-term senate seats, and a new election for that office will probably be held. The present Student Senate will decide that point in its meeting at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

Mary Jo McGee, Harris, won the other three-term Senate office from the junior class, defeating Ethel Hester, Mound City, and William Evans, Sheridan. In the junior two-term race, Bill Maloy, Redding, Ia., defeated Emma Lee Vance and for the one-term senate in the same class, Lloyd Oliver, Guilford, defeated Virgil Elliott, Barnard.

Two Votes Decide

Paul Tracy, Hubbard, O., defeated Irene Bohenblust, Pattonsburg, by two votes for the office of three-term Senate member from the sophomore class. Virginia Millikan, Corning, Ia., defeated Gladys Miller, St. Joseph, for the other three-term member from that class.

In the sophomore class race for two-term Senate member, Francis Stubbs, Amazonia, defeated David White, Cameron, and in the one-term race, Walter Lethem, Maryville, defeated Alice Woodside, Independence.

The freshman class, in its three-term Senate races, elected Dick Dempsey, Kansas City, over Orville Brightwell, St. Joseph, and Frank Strong, Maryville, over Quentin Goslee, Skidmore. In the two-term Senate race, Iola Argo, Skidmore, received 76 votes to Harold Brugeman, Maryville, and Marjorie Stone, Ridgeway, 47 and 60, respectively.

Installed Thursday

Marjorie Powell, Stewartsburg, defeated Edward Bird, Maryville, for the office of one-term Senate member from the freshman class.

The new members of the Senate will be installed next Thursday night when the present Senate will serve at its final session.

The plot is fast moving from the time Sorel informs Simon she has asked a diplomatist down for the week-end and warned him about the general manners of the home. But one guest is not enough and soon Simon, Judith, and David announce that they have asked guests down and that Judith's boxer friend and David's blond study and Simon's lady friend are to sleep in the Japanese room. Naturally it is an impossible situation and not until David has completed his novel and the guests have all run out on the family does the final curtain ring down.
